

The Behavioral Health Training and Education Network in conjunction with the Philadelphia Department of Behavioral Health and with the support of the PA Masonic Youth Foundation presents
“Cyber Bullying: What It Is and How to Intervene?”

Tuesday, April 9, 2019
9:00 AM to 12:15 PM
(Registration begins at 8:30 AM)

Program: Bullying and other forms of violence by and among young people are a major concern for all who work with youth. In this age of technological advancement, bullying through and by the electronic media is becoming a reality for our youth. This 3-hour training will offer a solid introduction to this type of bullying behavior, including the current research and best practices for prevention and intervention. There are no prerequisites for this program.

Presenter: Deborah McCoy, Educational Development Services, LLC
Ms. McCoy has extensive experience working in educational settings, working for the PA Department of Education as a SAP Regional Coordinator and a consultant to schools on bullying and safety issues. She also works in close collaboration with the PA Masonic Youth Foundation. (Ms. McCoy has disclosed no real or apparent conflict of interest regarding this course.)

Learning Objectives: As a result of this workshop, participants will be able to:

1. Cite the current research on the trends and behaviors of youth via electronic communication
2. Explore the on-line risks and dangerous communities impacting youth
3. Explore the phenomenon of “sexting” and other illegal forms of electronic speech
4. Identify cyber bullying, its effect on youth, and strategies for intervention and prevention
5. List the legal boundaries of electronic speech, and the consequences of violating those boundaries

Target Audience: This workshop is intended for all those who work in the Children’s Behavioral Health System. This workshop is limited to 30 participants.

Credits: 3 SW credit hours awarded. This program is co-sponsored by Bryn Mawr College Graduate School of Social Work and Social Research. As a CSWE accredited program, the Graduate School of Social Work and Social Research at Bryn Mawr College is an approved provider of continuing education for social workers, professional counselors, and marriage and family therapists in Pennsylvania and many other states.

3 CE credit hours for Psychologists awarded. BHTEN is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. BHTEN maintains psychological responsibility for this program and its content.
