in conjunction with the Philadelphia Department of Behavioral Health /
Intellectual disabilities Services and with the support of the PA Masonic Youth Foundation
Presents

“Current Drug Trends in Teens: Where are We Going Now?”

Monday, December 17, 2018
9:00 AM -12:15 PM

Presenter: Deborah McCoy, Educational Development Services, LLC
Ms. McCoy has extensive experience working in educational settings, working for the PA Department of Education as a SAP Regional Coordinator and a consultant to schools on bullying and safety issues. She also works in close collaboration with the PA Masonic Youth Foundation. (Ms. McCoy has disclosed no real or apparent conflict of interest regarding this course.)

Program: There is good news and not-so-good news regarding drug use among teens. The good news: in one nationwide study, illicit drug use (except for marijuana) is at the lowest level in the past two decades. The not-so-good news is an increase in the use of certain drugs and a decline in the perception of risk in using a number of substances. This workshop will look at just what is going on with our teen-agers.

Learning Objectives: By the end of this workshop, participants will have:
1. Explored the current research on substance use and abuse among young people;
2. Examined current drug trends among youth;
3. Discussed the physiological aspects of substance use in teens; and,
4. Outlined prevention, intervention, and possible treatment options for young people.

Target Audience: This workshop is intended for all those who work in the Children’s Behavioral Health System. There are no pre-requisites. This workshop is limited to 35 participants.

Credits: 3 SW credit hours awarded. This program is co-sponsored by Bryn Mawr College Graduate School of Social Work and Social Research.
